"I have had other pet sitting companies that I have dealt with in the past and I must say that everyone at Woofy Walks are top of the line. They go out of their way to get your pets to trust them. For example.. I have an African Grey (parrot) that doesn't like strangers AT ALL. But, Irene, has been able to get that bird to allow her to scratch her head... How she did this in such a short time I don't know.. but it goes to show the quality of attention the ladies give the animals. These people are a God send. They go out of their way to do things that are NOT in their job description but makes my life easier while not at home... like bringing in my mail and newspaper. Turning on and off different lights so it looks like someone is home, among other things that they really not have to do. I would HIGHLY recommend these people to anyone wanting to put their pets in the care of loving people." June 11, 2010

"Ruth really knows her animals and has always treated mine very well. I believe she goes above and beyond the call of duty in caring for my pets in my absence and her concern for my pets has always impressed me. My animals have loved her and I really trust and value her services. I highly recommend using her the next time you go out of town!" June 11, 2010

"I can't say enough good things about Ruth concerning the care of my 2 golden retrievers when I was out of town. She went over and above the usual care by adding many extras such as "tummy rubs", brushing their coats and detailed notes each day. I never worried when they were in her care. She also had very reasonable rates, which was greatly appreciated. She also went the extra mile, literally, as we were a little further than her usual territory. I would highly recommend her to anyone because her love and care for her "babies" is obvious from the first meeting. If you want to feel confident about your pet's care, Ruth really does treat them like her own "babies"!" June 13, 2010

"Ruth as taken care of my pets multiple times over the last couple of years. As stated before she goes above and beyond what her job would normally be. She is in my opinion a very trustworthy person to have in your home. She has taken excellent care of my animals and they truly enjoy her company. (even my timid one) I feel the best of her services is the fact she post reports online that can be viewed wherever you may be. It's nice to see how your pets are doing with a brief report including pictures or a small video. She has a very affordable service that's suprising for the level of work and care she gives." June 15, 2010
